

Conan Gray - The Exit

tom:

Intro: F G Am C
Em C F

February, and the flowers haven't even wilted
It's crazy how fast you tilted
The world that we were busy buildin'
Mid-november, and I'm sippin' on a half-cold coffee
Starin' at a girl who's not me
On your arm, a carbon copy

Feels like we had matching wounds
But mine's still black and bruised
And yours is perfectly fine now
Feels like we buried a life
Something that never died
So, God, it hurt when I found out

..You love her,?..it's over
Do you even doubt it on your lips? (What Do you say, say?)
..You love her,?..it's over
You already found someone to miss
Whil? I'm still standin' at the exit (Oh-oh,. oh-oh-oh)
I'm still standin' at the ?xit (Oh-oh, oh-oh-oh, oh, oh, oh)

I can't hate you for getting everything we wanted
I just thought that I would be part of it
I was movin' into your apartment
When you met someone, she's from your hometown
Hate the East coast, it's where you live now
Possible to understand how you're not comin' back
But I can't say it out loud
