Cory Asbury - Kind

```
                          tom:
                    D
Intro: Bm  A  D  G

[Primeira Parte]

        Bm      A         D          G            D
Sometimes marriages don't work, and sometimes babies die
        G             Bm            D
N.C.  A
Sometimes rehab turns to relapse and you're left just askin' why
        Bm      A         D           G           D
And for all the prayers I've prayed, I still wonder if He's real
        G          Bm           D              A
And if He is, how is He choosin' who He does and doesn't heal?

[Refrão]

    G                              D            A
I've tried to run from Jesus, I've started holy wars
    G                              D              A
I've tried the patient waitin' and the kickin' down the doors
    Bm           A              G             Em
I've cursed His name in anger with my fist rais?d to the sky
        G          A                  Bm
And in return, all He's ?ver been is kind

( Bm  A  D  G )

[Segunda Parte]

        Bm        A         D
And I've burned my share of bridges
              G             D
I learned to tuck my tail and run
          G             Bm
Watch the wreckage in the rear view
              D            A
From all the crooked things I've done
        Bm       A      D
And I know that He forgives me
        G             D
```

```
But it's hard to forgive myself
            G            Bm              D          A
I can't help but think amazing grace is for everybody else

[Refrão]

    G                              D            A
I've tried to run from Jesus, I've started holy wars
    G                              D              A
I've tried the patient waitin' and the kickin' down the doors
    Bm           A              G             Em
I've cursed His name in anger with my fist rais?d to the sky
        G          A          Bm  A  D  G
And in return, all He's ?ver been is kind

                        Bm  A  D  G
All He's ever been is kind

[Ponte]

          Bm      A      D
And I know I wasn't there
              G            D
But when I look up at the cross
          G             Bm
I see the darkest day in history
          D          A
I guess that's what kindness cost

[Refrão]

    G                              D            A
I've tried to run from Jesus, I've started holy wars
    G                              D              A
I've tried the patient waitin' and the kickin' down the doors
    Bm           A              G     D       Em
He knows I don't deserve it, but he's never changed his mind
          A          Bm  A  D  G
All He's ?ver been is kind
                    Bm  A  D
All He's ever been is kind

[Final] G
```
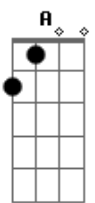

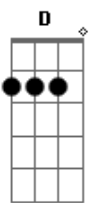

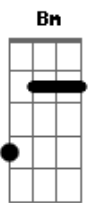

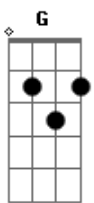

Acordes