

Counting Crows - Catapult

Tom: C

#

Date: Tue, 19 Nov 1996 19:52:38 -0800
 From: "Michael A. Mazur"

Transcribed by Michael A. Mazur
 Revised by Aaron Carlino (acarlino@)
 Intro: Hammond Organ arranged for guitar (play twice):

After the first time, guitar 1 enters with a little distortion and a lot of tremolo:

```
|--0--
|--0--
|--1-- hold for 8 beats
|--2--
|--2--
|--0--
```

Verse:

E A2 A2
 All of a sudden she disappears, just yesterday she was here
 somebody tell me if I am sleeping someone should be with me here (cause I don't want to be alone)

Chorus:

Guitar 1 plays this riff twice

Second time, end here

B A E
 I wanna be the knife that cuts into my hand and I wanna be scattered from here in this catapult
 What a big baby won't somebody save me please

B A
 You won't find nobody home

Verse 2: (same as first)

all of these quiet battered voices wait for the hunger to come we got little revolvers and stupid choices and no one to say when we're done (Well I don't wanna bring you down)

I wanna be the light that burns out your eyes
 'cause I know there's little things about me
 that would sing in this silence of so much rejection
 in every connection I make
 I can't find nobody home

Solo:

I wanna be the light that burns out your eyes
 'cause I know there's little things about me
 that would sing in this silence of so much rejection
 in every connection I make
 I can't find nobody home

Guitar 1 plays this over the last repeats of the chorus

Outro riff, repeat with feedback

Acordes

