

Counting Crows - Omaha

Tom: D

Tab submitted by: Digs -

There are a few tabs of this song on the web but none of them have the intro transcribed properly. Although the Intro: is played on an accordion (I think) the tab below sounds correct on the guitar. You will have to finger pick the intro to get it to sound a bit tricky to play but it adds a bit of class to the song when you play it.

The rhythm is easy to pick up if you listen to the song but if you have any questions e-mail me

Standard tuning.

Intro:
C#M X46654
B X24442

Verse

F#M C#M
 Start tearing the old man down

E B
 Run past the heather and down to the old road

F#M C#M
 Start turning the grain into the ground

D
 Roll a new leaf over

F#M C#M
 In the middle of the night, theres an

E B
 old man treading around in the gathered rain

F#M C#M
 Well mister if you're gonna walk on water

E D A (Hold the A into the chorus)
 Could you drop a line my way?

Chorus
 (A) E

F#M D
 somewhere in middle America

A E
 Get right to the heart of matters

D A
 Its the heart that matters more

E F#M B
 I think you'd better turn your ticket in

D A
 And get your money back at the door

That is the basis of the song, you should be able to work out the rest from here!!
