

Crazy Ex-Girlfriend - Without Love You Can Save The World

Tom: E
 m
 10,000 hours in anything makes you an expert
 And I've spent way more time than that frettin' over guys
 I've got a B.F.A., an M.F.A., a Ph.D. in obsession
 And now I find myself wondering why

I could have used that time to cure leukemia
 I could have used that time to clean the seas
 I could have taught some teens awareness of bulimia
 I could have saved the pandas, whales, and bees

Without love, you can save the world
 Put those hours to good use instead
 Without love, you can save the world
 Sing out, branch out, get out of your own head

Hey, guys!

Peace!

Peace and love!

But not love

Love's a real time suck, it really gets your mind stuck

On things that later on, you'll be like, "Why?"

Like when's he gonna text or when will I see him next?

Then suddenly the lakes have all gone dry

And it's all your fault!

Without love, you can save the world

Save the world!

Clear space in your brain for better things

Better things!

Without love, you can save the world (save the world!)

Not being tied to a bed can really give you wings

Conserve your mental energy

To research conserving energy

Don't raise hell

Raise money for local schools

Now that you've got time

Take the leash off your hog

And use that leash to walk rescue dogs

Love is blind

But without love

You can actually help the blind

It's an asexual utopia!

Without love, you can save the world (save the world!)

Forget who you did, think about what you can do (what you can do!)

Without love, you can save the world (save the world!)

Change doesn't start with him, change starts with you

It starts with you!

Not who you screw (not who you screw!)

It starts with you!

Without love
