

Cream - Tales of Brave Ulysees

Tom: D

(Eric Clapton and Martin Sharp)

Intro: /verso 1 (essa parte é sem guitarra base, mas você pode tocar o riff do baixo):

^D You thought the leaden winter
^G would bring you down forever,
^D But you rode upon a steamer
^G to the violence of the sun

Entra a guitarra base:

(D C G Gm) x2

^D And the colors of the sea
^G blind your eyes with trembling mermaids,
^D And you touch the distant beaches
^G with tales of brave Ulysses
^D How his naked ears were tortured
^G by the sirens sweetly singing,
^D For the sparkling waves are calling you
^G to kiss their white laced lips

Interlúdio: A7 D C A7 D C

^C And you see a girl's brown body
^G dancing through the turquoise,
^D And her footprints make you follow
^G where the sky loves the sea
^D And when your fingers find her,
^G she drowns you in her body,
^D Carving deep blue ripples
^G in the tissues of your mind

Interlúdio: A7 D C A7 D C

Sem guitarra base:

^D The tiny purple fishes
^G run laughing through your fingers,
^D And you want to take her with you
^C to the hard land of the winter

Com a guitarra:

(D C G Gm) X2

^D Her name is Aphrodite
^G and she rides a crimson shell,
^D And you know you cannot leave her
^G for you touched the distant sands
^D With tales of brave Ulysses
^G how his naked ears were tortured
^D By the sirens sweetly singing

D C G Gm

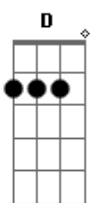

^D The tiny purple fishes
^G run laughing through your fingers,
^D And you want to take her with you
^G to the hard land of the winter
