Some folks are born, silver spoon in hand,
                                                                    "Lord, the house looks like a rummage sale."
   Lord, don't they help themselves.
                                                                    It ain't me, it ain't me, I'm no millionaire's son. It ain't me, it ain't me, I'm no fortunate one.
But when the tax man come to the door,
    Lord, the house looks like a rummage sale.
