Baby I'm sorry to call you so late,

Oh I forget I can't call you that name.

Still make those slips all of the time,

Don't know when I'll get better.

I think to the night that you handed me back,

Records we shared and the life that we had.

I'll never forget you.

C Bb
She's in your jeans,

You were my dream.

Now my nightmare.

At your sisters' wedding I gave all that I had,

Your father was cold and your mother was sad.

When we last met.

My love is a nail I can't pull out with plyers,

Don't know what that says about me,

But I just give in.
I mean it now it's making me ill.

[Chorus]
C Bb
She's in your jeans,
F
But I don't care.
C Bb
You were my dream.
F
Now my nightmare.

[Bridge]

Gm
As you always do,

I can't promise I will pick up,
n.c.
I'm done with you.

[Chorus]

She's in your jeans,
F
But I don't care.
