

Crossfade - I Think You Should Know

Tom: C

To play Emadd9, just add a finger on the 2nd fret of the high E string (variation 3), the rest is played as displayed (when hovering over the chords).

One day I fell asleep and dreamt of something to keep Opened up my dying mind to see the things that I'd never find Something true and beautiful was waiting there for me
 In a dream where I believed I'd find my way back home
 I think you should know how it feels falling down and out alone when no one cares
 I think you should know how it feels when the world buries your soul and you're still alive
 Don't ask what you can tell when I scratch myself to sleep
 And don't try to wake me up when I fall down, I bleed

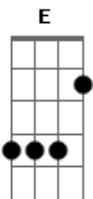

And even though there's more to say, I've tried to steal myself away

I've taken all I can, I can't help myself!
 I think you should know how it feels falling down and out
 alone when no one cares
 I think you should know how it feels when the world buries
 your soul and you're
 still alive
 SOLO:
 There must be someone out there who can hear me screaming out
 I know there must be someone who cares just enough to help me out
 Tell me there's someone out there, I know you hear me now
 I know there's someone who cares, so please just help me out!
 I know you hear me now
 I know there's someone who cares, so please just help me out!
 OUTRO:

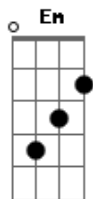

Acordes

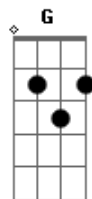

© ukulele-chords.com

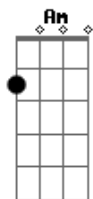

© ukulele-chords.com

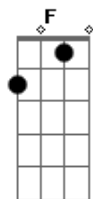

© ukulele-chords.com

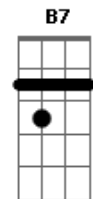

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com