

Daryl Hall & John Oates - A Promise Ain't Enough

```
That I'm real and my touch is true
                        tom:
                                                                       Dbm7
Intro: E A7M E A7M
                                                        It's taken a lifetime to find my heart
      A D7M A
                                                            Gbm7 B7 Dadd9
                                                        And I give it all to you
         Е
Don't wanna open your heart?
                                                        If a promise ain't enough
      F
                   A7M
You're afraid from the start
    A D7M A D7M
                                                        Then a touch says everything
That a new love's gonna let you down
                                                        Gbm7
                                                                         Bm7
      E A7M
                                                        Got to hold you in my arms
There is something you should know
        E
                                                        Till you feel what I mean
               A7M
Before you give up and go
         A D7M A D7M
                                                        ( A7M E A7M )
I don't believe in the run around
                                                                   D7M
       Dbm7
I just want to define myself
                                                        Know that my heart just tells me what to say
  Gbm B7 Dadd9
                                                                  Gbm7 B7
And show you how I feel
                                                        But words can only prove so much
                                                                         D7M Dadd9
                                                        If a promise ain't enough, oh, oh
If a promise ain't enough
                                                              E A7M E
                                                        Hold onto my love, yeah
                E A7M
Then a touch says everything
                                                        ( A7M A D7M A D7M )
Bm7 Dbm7
Gbm7
                 Bm7
Got to hold you in my arms
             E A7M E A7M
                                                        It took a lifetime to find what I want
Till you feel what I mean
                                                           Gbm7 B7 Dadd9
          D7M
                                                        I won't let it get away
Know that my heart just tells me what to say
           Gbm7 B7
But words can only prove so much
                                                        If a promise ain't enough
               D7M Dadd9
                                                                        E A7M
If a promise ain't enough, oh, oh
                                                        Then a touch says everything
         E A7M E
                                                        Gbm7
                                                                         Bm7
Hold onto my love, humm
                                                        Got to hold you in my arms
                                                                        E A7M E A7M
                                                        Till you feel what I mean
Though my words can't describe
                                                                  D7M
      E A7M
                                                        Know that my heart just tells me what to say
How I'm feeling all inside
                                                                   Gbm7 B7
     A D7M A D7M
                                                        But words can only prove so much
Does my touch say anything to you
                                                                       D7M Dadd9
      E A7M
                                                        If a promise ain't enough, oh, hold on
I'm not afraid to take time
       E A7M
                                                        [Final] E A7M E
'Cause I know you'll find
                                                              A7M Bm7 Dbm11
                   D7M A D7M
     Α
```

Acordes

