Dave Matthews Band - She

Tom: E

m
```
     A                    Bm
She hypnotised me with her groove
Em     A                        Bm
She collects the stars and simple moon
Em        A                      Bm
She might say she don't but then she do
Em    A                          Bm
She before i wake up with nothing i know

      Gb       D      A         Em               Gb
There ain't no god or man could kill the burning fire
       A           Bm
She is born in the middle of my soul
       Gb       D       A         Em              Gb
If you wait too long to taste the jewel jewel is gone
              A
The lights are off
             Bm
But you have run out of time

Em       A                  Bm
She will fill my bones and veins
Em        A                     Bm
She's the poison that will save you
Em     A                         Bm
She collects the laughter and the tears
Em     A                                    Bm
She burns down the barns and sets your fears free

      Gb       D      A         Em               Gb
There ain't no god or man could kill the burning fire
       A           Bm
She is born in the middle of my soul
       Gb       D       A         Em              Gb
If you wait too long to taste the jewel jewel is gone
              A
The lights are off
             Bm
But you have run out of time

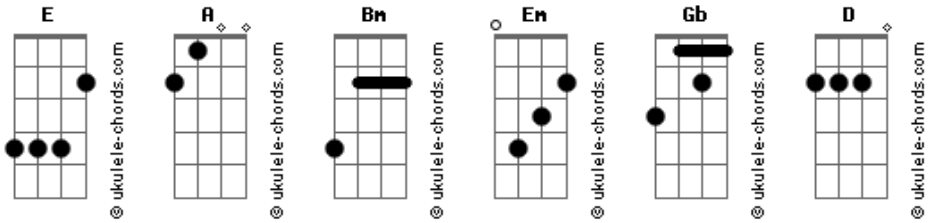
( Em D Bm A )

Em    A                           Bm
She makes me feel like i'm falling under
Em      A                        Bm
She aspell like karma break, no wonder
Em   A                          Bm
She will leave the metal in the wound
Em     A                         Bm
She still hypnotised me with her groove

She knows

      Gb       D      A         Em               Gb
There ain't no god or man could kill the burning fire
       A           Bm
She is born in the middle of my soul
       Gb       D       A         Em              Gb
If you wait too long to taste the jewel jewel is gone
              A
The lights are off
             Bm
But you have run out of time
```

Acordes



Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br