

David Fonseca - This One's So Different

```
Here?s a song, it?s the one for the one
                                                                                                                                                                                               A )
    (com acordes na forma de
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           Α
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            F
Capostraste na 3ª casa
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Sing it out, try it out, try it on
Intro: 2x: A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              This one?s so different
Refrão:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              From the one that made you cry, cry, cry
Here?s a song, it?s the one for the one
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Е
                                                                E
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              You and I, we were gone, we were gone
Sing it out, try it out, try it on E
                                     A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Down and under the sea for too long
This one?s so different
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  A E D
                                                                                                               A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Well, this one?s so different
From the one that made you cry, cry, cry
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              It won?t hurt to try, try, try
                                                          E
You and I, we were gone, we were gone
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               And all those things I?ve won, I only came undone, pride % \left( 1\right) =\left\{ 1\right\} =\left
Down and under the sea for too long
                                                                           A E D
Well, this one?s so different before the fall
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Well maybe you still can just see me for who I am and harbor
  An ocean filled my lungs, I banged away those drums, I prayed this tired and broken soul
                                                       D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              (A E D)(4x)
so you?d come back
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              ( Gbm )
  And when you finally did, I was already rid of the ghosts under D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Here?s a song, it?s the one for the one
the mat
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              ( A E D )
I held you once before, and then I let you go to lead an Sing it out, try it out, try it on errant
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                A E D life
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              This one?s so different
                                                                                   Ε
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 A E D
But you stuck on my mind, I kept you the whole time, a spark
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              This one?s so different
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           A E D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              This one?s so different
a new moon night
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              (A E D)(3x)
Refrão:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              (Gbm)
```

Acordes

