

David Guetta - She Wolf (Falling To Pieces)

```
Intro: 2x: Am Em G D
                                                           Was I bait to pull you in
                                                           The thrill of the kill
A shot in the dark
                                                           You feel, is a sin
A past lost in space
                                                                       Em
                                                           I lay with the wolves
Where do I start?
                                                           G D
                                                           Alone, it seems
 G D
The past and the chase?
                                                            I thought I was part of you
Am Em
You hauted me down
G D
Like a wolf, a predator

                                                           But I can't compete with a she wolf who has brought me to my
