CHORDS TO KNOW FOR THIS SONG

OPENING RIFF:

INTERLUDE RIFF:

[opening riff] x 4

G Em [interlude riff]
The workdays were propping the bar quietly erasing the week

G Em [interlude riff]
And I was in a corner booth thinking (pretending to read)

D D B G
About the impossibility of one to love unconditionally

Em
And the words that we drive into the ground

Gb [opening riff] x 4
Their repetition starts to thin their meaning

G Em [interlude riff]
Then everything got frighteningly still as they entered and intersected the floor

G Em [interlude riff]
And I tried to choke my stare at the perfection that others would kill for

D D B G
But all of the parts are the same on every face, few variables change

Em Gb G
The differences pale when compared to the similarities they share

A G Bm Gb
Finally there is clarity and there is purpose after all

A G Bm Gb
But every night ends the same as I'm collapsing once more by your side

A G Bm Gb
Finally there is clarity, this tiny life is making sense

A G Bm Gb
And every drop numbs the both of us, but I alone am staggering

[Repeat A G Bm Gb as many times as wanted]
