And it came to me then that every plan is a tiny prayer to father time

As I stared at my shoes in the ICU that reeked of piss and 409

And I rationed my breathes as I said to myself that I'd already taken too much today

As each descending peak of the LCD took you a little farther

Intro: DUÇÃO

F G

Amongst the vending machines and year-old magazines in a place where we only
C say goodbye

It stung like a violent wind that our memories depend on a faulty camera in Em
our minds
F G Am
But I knew that you were a truth I would rather lose than to have never lain
beside at all F G
Am
And I looked around at all the eyes on the ground as the TV entertained Em
itself
Dm F Am Em
'Cause there's no comfort in the waiting room
Dm F Am Em
Just nervous pacers bracing for bad news
Dm F
Em
And then the nurse comes round and everyone will lift their heads
Dm F Am
Em
But I'm thinking of what Sarah said that "Love is watching someone die"
F G Am C
So who's going to watch you die?
