

Deep Purple - The Surprising

Tom: G
Intro:

It wasn't quite the curse of Tutankhamon
 Or the kiss of death from Judas in the night
 And it felt so far beyond the blue horizon
 Tempting me with transports of delight

 And when the devil took my hand and said
 Come along with me

 ( Em D C Em )
 There I was, wide awake and dreaming
 Come along with me

Reaching out for something in the sky
 But I could not control that trembling feeling
 Everything I want is slipping by

 And when the devil took my hand and said
 Something you should see

 I never knew what happened to my nightmare
 Everything went dark that August day
 And the eclipse was on the other side of somewhere
 But I was on the upside of afraid

 And then an angel took my hand and said
 Come along with me
