 The obstacles in sight should never have the right to be part of the problem

E Gb Abm
 Bridges built for better days but they won't hold our weight

E Abm Gb
 But even if we tried, we'd hardly have the time to spend in living our lives right

E Gb Abm
 The ropes have been wearing thin, and tangling in the wind
 How's one meant to grow when walls keep caving in
 The ceiling above us, has denied it's existence in

E Abm Gb
 Don't say that I could change, cuz even if you stayed we'd still be climbing up this mountain

E Abm Gb
 Oh! Of all the times we tried, I've still been up all night writing songs of you

E Abm Gb
 So let us go our ways and skip out all the pain, and forget all the

E Abm Gb
 And even though you're gone they will still live on in a memory or two

E Gb Abm
 Bricks we've laid into this path yet the house remains undone

E Abm Gb
 Of all the streets I see, no one will ever be comparable to you

E Gb Abm
 Flooding at every cloud, and withering in the sun
 How's one meant to grow when walls keep caving in
 The ceiling above us, has denied it's existence in

E Abm Gb
 So with these words I go, I just wanted you to know, that my dreams are still of you
