F Am
 Lift my head up from
       Ab F
 The foreign ground I lay upon
       Am Ab
 Waking in the dark end of the longest day
 F Am Ab F
 Cold and brooken
       Am Ab
 Still I haven't slept as well as this in days

( F Am Ab )
 ( F Am Ab F )

Am
 Walking on these feet
       Ab F
 For what now feels like centuries
       Am Em
 The city streets still singing to my inner ears
 F Am Ab F
 Am Ab
 Burnt out, scarred and bruised but I just made it through,
 onto

( F Dm Ab )
 ( F Am Ab F )

Am
 Blurry thoughts of times
       Ab F
 In buildings I have left behind
       Am Ab
 Disappear like mist under the morning sun
 F Am Ab F
 Nature takes me back
       Am
 Back to all the childhood stories

Ab C
 That you told, when we still had a home

Am C Am
 Home

 Hoooooooooome
 C Am F
 Home

Am Ab F
 Dare I go, right off the precipice
       Am Ab F
 Following the footsteps of no one else
       Am Ab F
 Found myself between routine and heartache
       Am Ab F
 Knowing it was not a life to lead

Am Ab F
 Dare I go, right off the precipice
       Am Ab F
 Following the footsteps of no one else
       Am Ab F
 Found myself between routine and heartache
       Am Ab F
 Knowing it was not a life to lead

Am F
 And if I were to stay
       Am Ab F
 Let the city have its way
       Am F
 It would be the end of me
       Am Ab F
 So for now its time to leave

Am F
 Cold and all alone
       Am Ab F
 Still I feel more at home
       Am F
 Sleeping rough under this tree
       Am Ab F
 Than back in district three
