                                                                There's just one life to live
Intro: G D Bm A
                                                                And there's no time to waste, to waste.
The day I first met you
                                                                So let me give your heart a break, give your heart a break,
You told me you'd never fall in love
                                                                Let me give your heart a break , your heart a break
But now that I get you
                                                                There's just so much you can take, give your heart a break
I know fear is what it really was
                                                                Let me give your heart a break, your heart a break
Now here we are, so close, yet so far
                                                                Oh yeah yeah
Haven't i passed the test.
                                                                Ponte:
When will you realize
                                                                 When your lips are on my lips
Baby i'm not like the rest
                                                                And our hearts beat as one,
Refrão:
                                                                But you slip out of my finger tips
Don't wanna break your heart
                                                                    G D Bm A
                                                                Everytime you run
Wanna give your heart a break
                                                                Refrão:
I know you're scared is wrong
                                                                Don't wanna break your heart
Like you might make a mistake
                                                                Wanna give your heart a break
There's just one live to live
                                                                I know you're scared is wrong
And there's no time to waste, to waste.g
                                                                Like you might make a mistake
So let me give your heart a break, give your heart a break
                                                                There's just one life to live
Let me give your heart a break , your heart a break
                                                                And there's no time to waste, to waste.
Oh yeah yeah
                                                                So let me give your heart a break
Verso 2:
                                                                'cause you've been hurt before,
On Sunday, you went home alone,
                                                                I can see it in your eyes
There were tears in your eyes,
                                                                You try to smile it away,
I called your cell phone, my love,
                                                                Some things you can't disguise
But you did not reply
The world is ours if we want it,
                                                                Don't wanna break your heart, I can ease the ache, the eche
We can take it, if you just take my hand,
                                                                So let me give your heart a break, give your heart a break,
There's no turning back now
                                                                Let me give your heart a break, your heart a break,
Baby, try to understand
                                                                Theres just so much you can take, give your heart a break,
Refrão:
                                                                Let me give your heart a break, your heart a break
Don't wanna break your heart
                                                                Oh yeah yeah
Wanna give your heart a break
                                                                The day I first met you
                                                                You told me you'd never fall in love
