ever since the day that I was made I've been deciding the end
And I was made of wood and stone and won't diminish or bend
So when the heavy hand of death is here to take me away
I'll be the solid grip of time, forever holding my stay
Nobody ever made a force that took a beating like me
I call the earth and every scum to come and try to fight me cus when I made the choice to live beyond the dirt that we tread
I felt the curse of mortal limit fall before it was said

Jon - bass
(Just Play this 3x(three times) after the last chorus)

When this season ends

[chorus:]
One final heart-break
And blinding lights will guide our way free us our blind state
They will call us by our name
Undying

3:47
both guitars:
"Yea!..."

Tearing through these days I find
The tolerance to strive and push on
I know what lies beyond this life for me is already won
No one can take away the blood that covers over my fall
Without the blood of perfect life
I know I'm nothing at all
So now I reign forever hallowed in eternity's hand
No man can shake me from the everlasting ground that I stand

3:54
(Strum the chords fast, listen to song for the speed)
