

DeVotchka - Till The End Of Time

Tom: C

They're just words, they ain't worth nothing
 Cloud your head and push your buttons
 And watch how they just dis-ap-pear
 When we're far away from here
 And everybody knows where this is heading
 Forgive me for forgetting
 Our hearts irrevocably combined
 Star-crossed souls slow dancing
 Retreating and advancing
 Across the sky until the end of time

Oh who put all those cares inside your head
 You can't live your life on your deathbed
 And it's been such a lovely day
 Let's not let it end this way
 Like sisters and brothers we lean on each other
 Like sweethearts carved on a headstone
 Oh why even bother, it'll be here tomorrow
 It's not worth it sleeping alone
 And look at you and me still here together
 There is no one knows you better
 And we've come such a long long way
 Let's put it off for one more day
