Lately when my demons drag the night across my eyes
 I just can't seem to fight it anymore
 Yield unto temptation and be ruler of the world
 But it seems that I have heard that song before
 And the voices begin to sing - Come home

I have seen some evil as I've walked upon the earth
 But this is way beyond what eyes can see
 Wicked is as wicked does and if I lose control
 Is this the way that hell is gonna be

Have I fallen too far to rise
 Been burning too long in the fire
 Then it all falls down - Tearing the night away

It must be

Now before my demons roll the night across my eyes
 I tremble as I wait perhaps to sin
 Yield unto temptation and be ruler of the world
 And all I do is let the beast come in

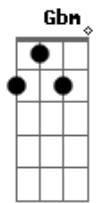

Have I fallen too far to rise
 I've been standing too long in the fire
 Let it all fall down
 Tearing the night away

It must be
