

Dolly Parton - Me And Little Andy

Tom: D

G I wondered who could be outside in such an awful storm.
 D And then I saw a little girl with a puppy in her arms.
 D Before I could say a word, she said, "My name is Sandy.
 And this here is my puppy dog, his name is little Andy!"
 G Standing in the bitter cold in just a ragged a dress,
 D then I asked her to come in, and this is what she said:
 D "Ain't'cha got no gingerbread? Ain't'cha got no candy?
 Ain't'cha got an extra bed for me and little Andy?"
 G Patty-cake and baker's man, my mommy ran away again,
 A and we was all alone and didn't know what else to do

I wonder if you'll let us stay with you?

D Giddy-up, Charlie Horse, c'mon, Chicken Li'l, can we stay all night?
 G If you don't love us, no one will, I promise we won't cry.
 G London bridge is falling down, my daddy's drunk again in town,
 A and we was all alone, and didn't know what we could do
 D we wondered if you'd let us stay with you?"
 D She was just a little girl, not more than six or seven, but that night as they slept, the angels took them both to heaven.
 G God knew little Andy would be lonesome with her gone,
 A now Sandy and her puppy dog won't ever be alone.
 "Ain't'cha got no gingerbread? Ain't'cha got no candy?
 Ain't'cha got an extra bed for me and little Andy?"
