

Donovan - Catch The Wind

Tom: D

In the ^Dchilly hours and ^Gminutes, ^DOf uncertainty,

I ^Gwant to be,

In the ^Dwarm hold of your ^Gloving ^Dmind.

To ^Dfeel you all ^Garound me,

And to ^Dtake your ^Ghand, along the sand,

Ah, but I ^Dmay as well ^Gtry and ^Acatch the ^Dwind.

^DWhen sundown

^Gpales the sky, I ^Dwant to hide a while,

^Gbehind your smile,

^DAnd everywhere

^G Ah, but I ^Amay as well, ^Dtry and catch the wind.

I'd look, your eyes I'd find.

^DFor me to ^Glove you now,

^DWould be the ^Gsweetest thing, 'twould make me sing,

^DAh, but I ^Gmay as well, ^Atry and ^Dcatch the wind.

^DWhen rain has

^Ghung the leaves with tears,

^DI want you near,

^Gto kill my fears

^Dto help me to ^Gleave all my ^Ablues ^Dbehind.

^DFor standin' in your ^Gheart,

^DIs where I want to be,

^Gand I long to be,

^DAh, but I ^Gmay as well, ^Atry and ^Dcatch the wind.
