This is the authors own work, it's NOT a official tab released by the artist or his mangement. Therefore it might be not 100% correct, but hopefully enjoyable!

NOTE: [PALM MUTING, p.m.]
 To reproduce the sloppy sound of the song keep hitting the lower strings palm muted (E A [D]). For the higher strings the muting can be loosened to get a slightly ringing sound. Listen to the song to figure out the rhythm.

Verse 1: p.m.

 Dear Susan, I know you love me so
 But I want to hear it in my ear
 You know I'd be there working at my craft
 Had it not been for the draft
 Dry up your tear and feel no fear
 You're here with me like I'm there with you C (let ring)

Chorus: p.m.

 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting

Verse 2: p.m.

 I'm writing a note beneath a tree
 The smell of the rain on the greenery
 Our fathers have painfully lost their way

That's why, my love, I'm here today
 Hear me when I say there will come a day
 When kings will know and love can grow C (let ring)

Chorus: p.m.

 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting

Verse 3: (same as verse 1) p.m.

 Susan, I know you love me so
 But I'd like to hear it in my ear
 You know I'd be there working at my craft
 Had it not been for the draft
 Dry up your tear and feel no fear
 You're here with me like I'm there with you C (let ring)

Final Chorus: p.m.

 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in Vietnam fighting
 To Susan on the west Coast waiting
 From Andy supposedly hating
 To Susan on the West Coast waiting
 From Andy in vietnam fighting

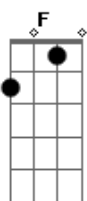

The keyboard part during the chorus may be like this:

to susan on.....waiting....from andy....fighting

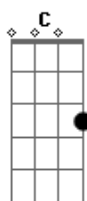

% end it with:

ENJOY!!!
