

Dream Theater - The Bigger Picture

Tom: G

Long before the colors start to bleed
 I can see the painting come alive
 Clever like an angel in disguise
 Moving in and out of reach
 If the candle lights this crooked path
 Like a lighthouse peering through the haze
 I will find the river through the rain
 And I'll reach the water's edge
 Shed your light on me
 Be my eyes when I can't see
 Shed your light on me
 Be my guide so I can see
 The bigger picture
 Like a moth burned by the fire
 And driven to the flame
 (Prophecies' a blessing and a curse)
 I must bare this cross alone
 There's no one else to blame
 With each treasure found
 Another shipwreck's washed ashore
 I am carried by the current

On a slow and steady course
 What if caught in a moment
 I get lost and can't find my way
 What if all along I was wrong
 In every turn, in every way
 Would you talk me off the ledge
 Or let me take the fall
 Better to try and fail
 Then to never try at all
 You look but cannot see
 Talk but never speak
 You live, but cannot breathe
 See but don't believe
 Wounds that never heal
 A heart that cannot feel
 A dream that's all too real
 A stare as cold as steel
 I've listened to the stories of resentment and disdain
 I've looked into the empty eyes of anger, fear, and shame
 I've taken blood from every stone
 And traveled every road
 When I see the distant lights illuminate the night
 Then I will know I am home
