

The Dresden Dolls - Boston

tom:

All the cities in the world and so very little time, and
 So many different girls, all you have to do is find them
 There's a wealth of opportunity, you make your plans accordingly
 A pity that the pretty ones are usually more touristy
 Say, how'd you like to run away from these machines?
 Everywhere the spies are printing out our dreams
 Seven stops in seven different countries, seven page itineraries
 Memories thick as bloody marys, Jesus Joseph bloody hell
 Right now we're here in Boston
 In love with downtown crossing
 New York will still be there in the morning
 Come back to bed my darling
 I had Julian and Steve, you had Juliette and Janet
 You wear your terror on your sleeve for all the men I haven't met... yet
 I had Oliver in Potstam you had Elanor in Amsterdam
 We're keeping score so carefully we've lost the state we're in completely
 Honestly your foot is out the door and I've got scores of offers
 Elsewhere and keep both feet planted firmly in the air
 And tomorrow you can totally erase me from your mind
 No really, everything is fine

Because right now we're here in Boston
 In my apartment in the south end
 Forget your friends in London
 Come back to bed my darling
 You can put the details in a letter
 The more embarrassing the better
 Right now I can be happy if I choose to
 I know that in the morning I will lose you
 And maybe you'll be mad, and maybe I'll be gray
 Before we really understand or maybe it won't matter anyway
 We'll find out that your mom was right and you'll admit you're really gay
 And maybe we'll wake up in a city far away
 Or maybe we'll make up, and buy a house
 And have a dozen kids who'll run away it doesn't matter anyway
 Right now we're here in Boston
 In Eden where you almost let your pants down
 Don't worry who these jokes will all be lost on
 Come back to bed my darling
 There is nothing in the world that we can count on Even that we will wake up is an assumption
 But I know for a fact that I loved someone
 And for about a year he lived in Boston
 In Boston

Acordes

