

Elixir Inc - Hold Me

```
tom:
               Gb (forma dos acordes no tom de G)
                                                            [Ponte]
                          Afinação: Eb Ab Db Gb Bb Eb
Intro: G Bm Em D
                                                            You are still the one I want
[Primeira Parte]
I've been thinking 'bout you baby can you feel it?

C Am D
                                                            Why's so hard to say goodbye?
I can wait 'till the clouds go away
                                                            [Solo] C G Em Bm C G D
I've been wondering through the streets of delusion
Only you girl will take me home
               Bm
                                                            Hold me now
I've been holding out so long for you baby
                                                            Em Bm
                 Am
And I don't want to let your heart go away
                                                            C G
              Bm
                             Em
                                                            Show me how
I'm coming town tomorow so please hold on
And don't forget you're the one for me
[Pontel
                        Em
Let's get through it baby don't give up
                                                                             Bm
You are still the one I want
                                                                        Am
                                                                                  D
So please woman take slow we have time
                 D
Why's so hard to say goodbye?
                                                            Em Bm
[Segunda Parte]
And it hurts too much to think 'bout you baby
             Am
                        D
And how I left your heart behind
                                                            [Solo] C G Em Bm C G D
Yeah I'm out here on my own searching for you
```

Think I'll Have to make it through this time Let's get through it baby don't give up So please woman take slow we have time Show your secrets to me Tell me how it's gonna be I can make your dreams true I want you little girl I've been thinking 'bout you baby can you feel it? D I can wait 'till the clouds go away I've been wondering through the streets of delusion Only you girl will take me home Show your secrets to me Tell me how it's gonna be I can make your dreams true little girl I want you, I want you, I want you

Acordes

