The grass was as green as it always was that sinister day
 The blackbirds sang their songs as they always did that black-letter day

We passed the great gate for the very last time
 I did not look back, I knew we'd stay

I knew they they would not let us go leave the death strip
 I saw the gleam in their eyes of fear and enslavement
 Suffering from the crushing weight

[Ponte]

I knelt ground take me home

[Refrão]

Alesia, alisanos
 Wake me when I'm gone

Ianotouta, eternity
 Proclaim our barren sacrifice
 On that ground we cherished life
 We embraced death
 As the children's cries trailed off
 Sob yielded deathly hush
 [Refrão]

Alesia, alisanos
 Wake me when I'm gone
 Ianotouta, eternity
 Proclaim our barren sacrifice

The grass was as green as it always was that sinister day
 As we walked the alleys like thousand times before
 I knew we'd stay

[Refrão]

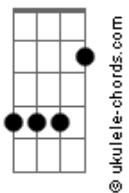

Alesia, alisanos
 Wake me when I'm gone
 Ianotouta, eternity
 Proclaim our barren sacrifice
