

Emblem3 - Love Will Be There

Tom: E

(Dbm B A B)

Sick of all the people talk about me
They don't really know me
They don't really see the same as I see
Well I know what I'm supposed to be

People show me love but then they judge me
Why they gotta treat me so shady?
Think that they can see above our things
But really, in the shadows they are drowning

I've had enough, had enough, had enough

But I'll never give up

I've had enough, had enough, had enough

But I'll never give up

When all else fails, all else fails

Love will be there

Love will be there

And time will tell, time will tell

Who really cares, who really cares

All's well, things ends well
And we made it through this hell

When all else fails, all else fails

Love will be there

Love will be there

It feels like I am living in a bad dream

But positivity will save me

They never said that it'd be easy

But until you put in the work, you're not worthy

I don't know where the path may lead
But focusing on the light will help me see

I'm not scared of keep my hands dirty
As long as I finish all my journey

I said I've had enough, had enough, had enough
But I'll never give up
I've had enough, had enough, had enough
But I'll never give up

When all else fails, all else fails
Love will be there
Love will be there
And time will tell' time will tell
Who really cares, who really cares

All's well, things ends well
And we made it through this hell

When all else fails, all else fails
Love will be there
Love will be there

Love will be there

Love will be the-e-e-re
Love will be the-e-e-re
Love will be the-e-e-re

When all else fails, all else fails
Love will be there
Love will be there
And time will tell' time will tell
Who really cares, who really cares
All's well, things ends well
And we made it through this hell

When all else fails, all else fails
Love will be there
Love will be there

Love will be there
Love will be the-e-e-re

Love will be the-e-e-re
Love will be the-e-e-re

Love will be there
Love will be there
