

Eric Clapton - Black Rose

tom:

G

The dogs are
Howling at the Midnight
Moon

I'm on my Way to where the Black rose
Blooms

The mountain's
High, the Night is
Cold
I feel the Sunshine; a
Black rose
Grows

To
Gether again, we're as
Common as sin, they say
We just walk around the stones they
Throw
Night after night
We steal away to where
Love don't see no
Colors in the
Shadows
Love don't see no
Colors in the
Shadows

Wind in the Willows
Wild and Warm

Just like the Woman lying

Here in my
Arms

The water's
Deep
Cold and Still

I love the Feeling that
Black rose
Gives

We just walk around the stones they
Throw
Night after night
We steal away to where
Love don't see no
Colors in the
Shadows
Colors in the Shadows

Throw
Night after night
We steal away to where
Love don't see no
Colors in the
Shadows
Colors in the Shadows
