

Esha Tewari - Beautiful Boy

tom:
Intro: C Am G G

Oh, beautiful boy
You are a sight to be seen
Oh, beautiful boy
You hate your mother, that's why you love Me
That's why you love me
And I can stare into your eyes, and search
For something more
I can hold you in my arms, and take all
The warmth, but it's futile
We are nothing worthwhile
(C Am G G)

Oh, beautiful boy your head is empty
You are thoughtless, so this is pointless
Oh, beautiful boy, I need you in my veins
In my bloodstream
And I can stare into your eyes, and search
For something more
I can hold you in my arms, and take all
The warmth, but it's futile
We are nothing worthwhile
I crave for your closeness, but I lose
Myself in intimacy
It's so easy to be somebody else
And I lie to my lover
I lie to the moon
I lie to my bedsheets

Acordes

I lie to you
And I can stare into your eyes, and search
For something more
I can hold you in my arms, and take all
The warmth, but it's futile
We are nothing worthwhile
And I can see everything
If you don't know the first thing about me
(G)
Oh, beautiful boy
You're going away
You play a small role in the act of my Play
And I stare into your eyes, give me Something more
Hold me in your arms, let me take all your Warmth
I can make this worthwhile
I can hold up a smile
I can force my body
To accept this for eternity
I can make it something it's not
And I can stare into your eyes, and search
For something more
Oh, beautiful boy
