Evergrey - For Every Tear that Falls

                              tom:
                    G
Intro: F Am F Am
F                   Am
  Stranded on a shore of no light
F                      Am
  The waves brings me sorrow
G                          F
  And with a vision of past in my mind
Am                 G    Em
  All I crave is to see you back in life
F             Am
  I call your name
F                   Am
  But you won't hear me
G                     F
  I seek your eyes but they won't see
Am                        F
  And when I reach for your hands
Am      F          G
  I realise I can't feel them no more
C             Am
  I see your eyes
C             Am
  I feel your pain
F                       Am
  Sailing waters I am drifting inside
F                   Am
  The wind brings me sadness
G                          F
  And with a vision of past in my mind
Am                 G         Em
  All I wanted was not to see you die
F             Am
  I call you name
F                   Am
  But you won't hear me
G                     F
  I seek your eyes but they won't see
Am                        F
  And when I'm burning inside
Am  F          G
  I hope you're there
  Can't you see my tears

F            Am
  I see your crying
C                      Am
  And I have tried to forget
F                     Am
  You'll always be in my mind
B           Gbm         Bm
  I stare the eyes of a man alone
                           G
A man I used to care for
   Gb            Bm
A man I used to know
  For every tear that falls
   Gb            B
A wound grows bigger
                   G   Gb   Dbm
  Into my already bleeding soul
                A       Ab
  If I had only been there
Dbm           A             Ab
  Oh god I wish I could have saved you
B   Bm      G         Gbm        B
  I still remember the times we shared
                    E          Gbm
  I've tried to keep inside the grief I suffer
Bm        G        Gbm         Bm
  I can't believe that I been swept away
  Like I never existed
Gbm             Dbm
  As a part of your life

[Solo]  A Ab Dbm A Ab B Bm G Gbm B Bm G Bm
Dbm           A             B              Dbm
  I'm still stranded on the shore of no light
                                 A         Dbm
  And the same wave still brings me sorrow
                      A    Ab      Dbm
  And I'm drifting yes drifting inside
                            Gb
  And my wound grows bigger
        Ab              A
For every tear that falls
                        Dbm
For every tear that falls
