

Fireflight - Here And Now

Tom: A

Lonely moonlight guides my eyes right to the door

So many nights I'd lay here wondering will I ever cross the floor

Slipping from my grip no matter what I'd do

All the dreams I held so tightly I could not stop from falling through

But right here with you everything's changing

You change me

You change things

Here and now

Never felt like this before

And it's the moment I've been waiting for

Been waiting to step into the future

Step into the future

Here and now

Feels like flying realizing that there's more

To this life than just surviving there is love worth dying for

But right here with you everything's changing

You change me

You change things

Here and now

Never felt like this before

And it's the moment I've been waiting for

Been waiting to step into the future

Step into the future

Here and now

Here and now

It's more than how you've changed things

It's how you're changing me

All I really needed was something to believe

It's more than how you've changed things

It's how you're changing me

It's how you're changing me

Here and now

Never felt like this before

And it's the moment I've been waiting for

Been waiting to step into the future

Step into the future

Here and now

I'm standing at the open door

And it's the moment I've been waiting for

Been waiting to step into the future. Step into the future

Here and now

Here and now
