

Fletcher - You Should Talk

```
Tom: G
                                                               Em7
                                Fm7 Fm7 D
Do, do, do, do, do
                                                               ('bout you)
I'm insane
I'm the girl who ruin everything
          Em7
                 Em7
                          D
When you cut me, I don't feel the pain
Never cared about you
That's what you're saying
                     Em7 Em7 D
And that what you're saying, baby
If that's true
Em7
Why am I still in your old shirt, thinkin' 'bout you?
Yeah, I heard what you've been saying, baby
 But you should talk
Yeah, you should talk
                          Em7 Em7 D
                                                                     C
Heard you found somebody new (yeah)
                                                               I'm insane
 Oh, you should talk
Yeah, you should talk
                          Em7 Em7 D
Cause to fuck it up takes two (takes two)
 That shit I did, yeah, you did it too
                  Fm7 D
             Em7
I'd call you up, but babe this ones on you % \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,2,3,\ldots \right\}
 Oh, you should talk, cause you gave up
If you miss me, say you do
                                Em7 Em7 D
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do
You tell yourself
"She moved on, she's so gone I can tell
           Em7 Em7 D
Should I call her right now?
With someone else could be heaven so why is it hell?"
                      Em7 Em7 D
And that what you're saying, baby
                                                                        Fm7 D
If that's true
                                                               If you miss me
