

Flogging Molly - Another Bag Of Bricks

Tom: D

"Another Bag of Bricks?"

From the album Drunken Lullabies

Tabbed by Eric Bonkowski

Intro:

chorus riff

D G
D C D

D

It was in the early evening?

Near the presence of the moon

You told me you would meet me here

Well now is not too soon

G

This dagger twisting in my back

D

Tells me I never should

G

Have trusted everything to fall

F A

From beggar to the fool

D

I see your face like every race

A serpent with two arms

Devouring me while rains the sun

With dreams in foreign lands

G

This cold and dark tormented hell

D

Is all I'll ever know

G

So when you get to heaven

F A

May the devil be the judge

(with chorus riff)

With another bag of bricks

D
I scratch your name across these walls

And with my blood turns red

Then drips upon my killing floor

Where now I call my bed

G

No precious light to harbor

D

Like so many here before

G

And every drop of life you shed

F A

Now breathes a thousand more

(with chorus riff)

With another bag of bricks

A

Temper filled with blindness

Leads this lost and lonely man

Dragged around your whipping tree

A scourge you can't command

D

So deafen me with silence

Drown me with your roar

Scowl me with your hollow eyes

Still burnin' to the core

G

No door will go unanswered

D

Like so many closed before

G

No vagabond to knock upon

D

This tired and beaten war

G

When all return to exile

D

Free from all once bound

G

Decline and brawl old parasites

F A

The truth will yet be found

(with chorus riff)

With another bag of bricks

instrumental interlude:

quickly:

D D D D | D D D D | D D D G G
D D D D | D D D D | D D D G G

Then D over the accordion solo

N.C.

This cold and dark tormented hell

Is all I'll ever know

So when you get to heaven

May the devil be the judge

A

Temper filled with blindness

Leads this lost and lonely man

Dragged around your whipping tree

A scourge you can't command

D

So deafen me with silence

Drown me with your roar

Scowl me with your hollow eyes

Still burnin' to the core

G

No door will go unanswered

D

Like so many closed before

G

No vagabond to knock upon

D

This tired and beaten war

G

When all return to exile

D

Free from all once bound

G

Decline and brawl old parasites

F A

The truth will yet be found

(with chorus riff x3)

With another bag of bricks

instrumental outro:

quickly:

D D D D | D D D D | D D D G G

D D D D | D D D D | D D D G G

the violin/accordion slide this little bit in:

NOTE:

The F to A move at the end of each verse sounds much better when A is played barred, rather than in the open position. Also the reoccurring D may sound better as a D, though it is definitely not a Dm.

And for any mandolin or violin players, those few riffs look like this:

and

and sometimes at the end of certain verse lines,

Have fun. Email questions/corrections to F

Acordes

