

Flogging Molly - To Youth

Tom: G

^C
Tell me why must a man be of service ^G
^C
To his lord and the god seldom high ^G
^C
From the grave spring the name of our fathers ^G
^C
But there's no glint in a dead man's eye ^D
^C
Tell me why are our fields filled with hunger ^G
^C
And fruitless the crop bitter soil ^G
^C
So I say my farewell to a nation ^D
^C
As the leaf waves goodbye to it's so

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this story ^G
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now ^G
^C
Like the train that derails without warning ^G
^C
I must leave what I left far behind ^D
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh ^D
^G
I say goodbye (C D G)3x

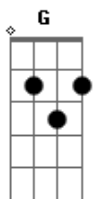

^C
Tell me why must our peace be this puzzle ^G
^C
That fractures the land, splinters war ^G
^C
The last nails cite the shame in our coffin ^D
^C
But in the end we must all die alone

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this story ^G
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now ^G
^C
Like the train that derails without warning ^G
^C
I must leave what I left far behind ^D
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh ^D
^G
I say goodbye (C D G)3x
^D
And the bark fell from tree
^C
To the ground that they'll bleed ^G

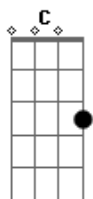

^D
On the anguish that never learned to shout ^G
^D
With the clash of the drum
^C
We'll surrender the gun ^G
^D
and on this sadness we shall no longer speak ^G
^C
Until time can live on our all forgotten songs ^G
^C
That's when I and we will sing again ^D
^G
So goodbye to my love, my sweet Roisin Dubh ^G
^G
Goodbye now until we meet again (C D G)3x
^C
Tell me why must our grief still be grieving ^G
^C
For a language that never spoke it's loss ^G
^C
But this tongue speak with fire will tear down the barb wire
^C
And Rip the belly from the waxy ghost ^D
^C
So it's to youth I sing you this story ^G
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now ^G
^C
Like the train that derails without warning ^G
^C
We must leave what we left far behind ^D

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this story ^G
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now ^G
^C
Like the train that derails without warning ^G
^C
We must leave what we left far behind ^D
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say goodbye (C D G) ^G
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say goodbye (C D G) ^G
^C
Until we meet again ^G
^C
Until we meet again ^G
^C
Until we meet again, she arrives to beautify ^G
^D
But slumber now must rest
^G
Oh my Roisin Dubh
^C
I'll forever love
^G
The youth you once possessed ^D ^G
