

Flogging Molly - To Youth

Tom: G

^C
Tell me why must a man be of service ^G
^C
To his lord and the god seldom high ^G
^C
From the grave spring the name of our fathers ^G
^C
But there's no glint in a dead man's eye ^D
^C
Tell me why are our fields filled with hunger ^G
^C
And fruitless the crop bitter soil ^G
^C
So I say my farewell to a nation ^D
^C
As the leaf waves goodbye to it's so

^C ^G
So it's to youth I sing you this story
^C ^G
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C ^G
Like the train that derails without warning
^C ^D
I must leave what I left far behind
^C ^D
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh
^G
I say goodbye (C D G) 3x

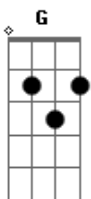

^C ^G
Tell me why must our peace be this puzzle
^C ^G
That fractures the land, splinters war
^C ^G
The last nails cite the shame in our coffin
^C ^D
But in the end we must all die alone

^C ^G
So it's to youth I sing you this story
^C ^G
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C ^G
Like the train that derails without warning
^C ^D
I must leave what I left far behind
^C ^D
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh
^G
I say goodbye (C D G) 3x
^D
And the bark fell from tree
^C ^G
To the ground that they'll bleed

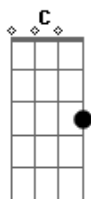

^D ^G
On the anguish that never learned to shout
^D
With the clash of the drum
^C ^G
We'll surrender the gun
^D ^G
and on this sadness we shall no longer speak
^C ^G
Until time can live on our all forgotten songs
^C ^D
That's when I and we will sing again
^G ^C ^D ^G
So goodbye to my love, my sweet Roisin Dubh
^G ^D ^G
Goodbye now until we meet again (C D G) 3x
^C ^G
Tell me why must our grief still be grieving
^C ^G
For a language that never spoke it's loss
^C ^G
But this tongue speak with fire will tear down the barb wire
^C ^D
And Rip the belly from the waxy ghost
^C ^G
So it's to youth I sing you this story
^C ^G
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C ^G
Like the train that derails without warning
^C ^D
We must leave what we left far behind

^C ^G
So it's to youth I sing you this story
^C ^G
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C ^G
Like the train that derails without warning
^C ^D
We must leave what we left far behind
^C ^D ^G
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say goodbye (C D G)
^C ^D ^G
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say goodbye (C D G)
^C ^G
Until we meet again
^C ^G
Until we meet again
^C ^G
Until we meet again, she arrives to beautify
^D
But slumber now must rest
^G
Oh my Roisin Dubh
^C
I'll forever love
^G ^D ^G
The youth you once possessed
