[Verse I]

Am And the air was full G
 F E E
 Of various storms and saints
 Am
 Praying in the street
 Dm Em
 As the banks began to break
 Am
 And I'm in the throes of it
 Dm Em
 Somewhere in the belly of the beast
 Am
 But you took your toll on me
 Dm Em
 So I gave myself over willingly
 Am
 Oh, you got a hold on me
 Dm Em
 I don't know how I don't just stand outside and scream
 Dm Em
 I am teaching myself how to be free

[Verse II]

Am
 The monument of a memory
 You tear it down in your head
 Dm
 Don't make the mountain your enemy
 Em
 Get out, get up there instead
 Am
 You saw the stars out in front of you
 Too tempting not to touch
 Dm
 But even though it shocked you
 Em
 Something's electric in your blood

[Pre-Chorus]

Dm C
 And people just untie themselves
 Am G Dm
 Uncurling lifelines
 Am G
 If you could just forgive yourself

[Chorus]

Am
 But still you stumble, feet give way
 Dm Em
 Outside the world seems a violent place
 Am
 But you had to have him, and so you did
 Dm Em
 Some things you let go in order to live
 Am
 While all around you the buildings sway
 Dm Em
 You sing it out loud, who made us this way
 Am
 I know you're bleeding, but you'll be okay
 Dm Em
 Hold on to your heart, you'll keep it safe
 F Em Am
 Hold on to your heart, don't give it away

[Verse III]

Am
 You'll find a rooftop to sing from

Or find a hallway to dance

Dm Em
 You don't need no edge to cling from
 Dm Em
 Your heart is there, it's in your hands
 Am
 I know it seems like forever

I know it seems like an age
 Dm Em
 But one day this will be over
 Dm Em
 I swear it's not so far away

[Pre-Chorus]

Dm C
 And people just untie themselves
 Am G Dm
 Uncurling lifelines
 Am G
 If you could just forgive yourself

[Chorus]

Am
 But still you stumble, feet give way
 Dm Em
 Outside the world seems a violent place
 Am

 Hold on to your heart
