

Foo Fighters - Dirty Water

```
Tom: G
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      I feel an earthquake coming on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 C
           Dbm
                    I've been drinking dirty water
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       I feel the metal in my bones
                                                                                                  Am E
                    I've been here before after all
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   'Cause I'm a natural disaster
Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               G A7sus4 Em
                                                                                                                G
                    The witching hour is upon us
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       You're the morning after all my storms
                                                                                Am E
                    You and I get sick, on it's own
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  (Em G A C)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  (Em G A C)
C Am
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 G Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Em
                     In my dreams I'm paddling backwards
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Be dirty water, be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     G A C
                                                                                                    Am E
                    Then I tell them draw, row by row
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Be dirty water, be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       G A C Em
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          Em
                    Then I keep on falling flat, asking
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Be dirty water, be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
                                                                               Am E
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    G
                     All this echoing, on and on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Be dirty water, be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Em G A C
Be dirty water, be
Am
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          Em
On and on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         G A C Em
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Be dirty water, be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                dirty sky
                    I feel an earthquake coming on % \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\}
C
                                                                                                    G
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            A7sus4
                    I feel the metal in my bones
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       I feel an earthquake coming on
                   'Cause I'm a natural disaster
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       I feel the metal in my bones
                                                                                                  G A7sus4 Em
                    You're the morning after all my storms
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   'Cause I'm a natural disaster
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Dirty water in my blood
                     You're my sea, I'm poison flowers
                                                                                           Am E
                    Standing in the sun, row by row % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      I feel the morning coming on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 C
Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                G
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Heavy metal in my bones
                     And I've been drinking dirty water
                                                                                                            Am
                     Taste her sweet revenge, blessed home
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    'Cause I'm a natural disaster
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                G A7sus4 Em
Am
On and on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       You're the morning after all my
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    storms
```

Acordes

