

Fort Atlantic - Sleeping Giant

Tom: E
Intro: E A E

I was standing in the Mission
The walls were closing in
A winter night would be the story's end
Another breath and one more step I'll soon be free

The world started spinning backwards
The ground began to shake
The sleeping giant, he began to wake
I was just about to let it all fade away
Now I'm going home torn apart
With a busted lip and a broken heart but I am alive
