As I walk through the streets of my new city
 my back feeling much better, I suppose I've reclaimed the use of my imagination for better or for worse, I've yet to know but I always knew you'd be the one to understand me,
 I guess that's why it took so long to get things right.
 Suddenly I'm lost
 On my street
 On my block
 Oh why, Oh why
 Oh why haven't you been there for me?
 Can't you see, I'm losing my mind this time?
 This time it's for real, I can see
 All the trees are turning red
 The beggars near bodegas grin at me
 I think they want something
 I close my eyes, I tell myself to breathe and be calm.
 Be calm.
 I know you feel like you are breaking down.
 Well I know that it gets so hard sometimes.
 Be calm.
 I'm scared that everyone is out to get me.
 "These days before you speak to me you pause."
 "I always see you looking out your window."
 "After all, you lost your band, you left your mom."
 Now every single crack, every pain that I pass, says I should either leave or pick it up
 But with every single buck I've made I'm saddled with bad luck that came the moment I was baptized

or when I found out one day I'm gonna die
 if only I could find my people or my place in life
 then when they come to 'carolin'
 so loud, so bright, the theremin
 will lead us to a chorus
 where we'll all rejoice and sing a song that goes:
 Oh be calm.
 Be calm.
 I know you feel like you are breaking down.
 I know that it gets so hard sometimes,
 Be calm.
 Take it from me, I've been there a thousand times.
 You hate your pulse because it thinks you're still alive
 It just gets so hard sometimes
 Be calm.
 I don't remember much that night,
 Just walking, thinking fondly of you
 Thinking how the worst is yet to come
 From that street corner came a song
 And I can't remember the man,
 The panhandler or his melody.
 The words exchanged had far exceeded any change I'd given thee.
 Oh be calm.
 Be calm.
 I know you feel like you are breaking down.
 I know that it gets so hard sometimes,
 Be calm.
 Take it from me, I've been there a thousand times.
 You hate your pulse because it thinks you're still alive
 It just gets so hard sometimes
 Be calm.
 Be calm.
