

Tom: C

Fun. - I Wanna Be The One

```
Bm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   C F
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  And your brother with his best friend
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Am
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Bm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Shares a name I'm gonna need
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Really couldn't bring me down
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  For everything you lost and all you overcome
Pa-ra Pa
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  I wanna be the one to put in a song
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Take every single tear for all the world to hear
Were you named for the river that surrounds
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  I wanna be the one to put it in a song and make it last
All my biggest my mistakes or the way that I made it out
                                                           Bm C F
                                                                                                                                              Am
                                                                                                                                                                                           Bm
All the muscles in my mouth never smiled or said profound
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Clever comes in truth when truth begets the past
C Am
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Its sends its call out to the moon
Until the day she handed you to me now
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  G A B C D E C
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  And the moon can see the beauty that surrounds your heart as
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   BAC DmCBDEFG BC
For all the steps you'll take and all you'll overcome
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  It starts the beat inspiring me until I make the sound
I wanna be the one to put in a song % \left\{ 1\right\} =\left\{ 1\right\}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  ( F C F C )
Take every single tear for all the world to hear
I wanna be the one to put it in a song
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  I wanna be the one, I wanna be one, I wanna be the one, no-no no-no
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  For everything you lost and all you overcome
Pa-ra Pa
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  I wanna be the one to put in a song
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Take every single tear for all the world to hear
Cigarettes are raining hard on the Upper East Side
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          G C
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  I wanna be the one to put it in a song
                                                                                                      G
She brings me a cake we celebrate I have arrived
And I know that it's been sang before but you're my human
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          C G Pa-ra Pa
Acordes
```

I put my hands to the table and dare say the love of my life

