

Tom: Eb

Gabriel Vendramini - Black Hole

```
crowded space?
                 Bb7
Completely drained out like an empty pool
                                                          Sometimes you just need to move on
               Bb7 D7
                                                                           Bb7 D7
It feels like being hit by a steamroller
                                                          What you?re looking for may not be here
            Bb7
                      D7
Those days you woke up as a black hole
                                     D7
                                                          I?m so far from my own self right now
                     Bb7
And you?re sucking all the problems from mankind
                                                          C Eb
                                                                            G
                                                          I may need some time to rest before moving on
                                                                Eb
                                                                           G
                                                                                         Bb
Gm Bb7 D7
                                                          And if it?s not tomorrow, then I?ll make it be
                                                          I?m closing this black hole
Everything is so loud right now
Gm Bb7
                                                          For the sake of me
It?s very hard to hold my temper
                                                         Solo - Verso
          Bb7
I?m struggling to don?t pull the pin
       Bb7
From this grenade that it?s just my head
                                                          I?m so far from my own self right now
                                                                          G
                                                          C Eb
                  G
                                                          I may need some time to rest before moving on
I?m so far from my own self right now
                                                                Eb
                                                                             G
                                                          And if it?s not tomorrow, then I?ll make it be
C Eb
                G
I may need some time to rest before moving on
                                                          I?m closing this black hole
      Eb
                  G
And if it?s not tomorrow, then I?ll make it be
                                                          For the sake of me
I?m closing this black hole
                                                                Fb
                                                                            G
For the sake of me
                                                          I?m so far from my own self right now
                                                                            G
Gm Bb7 D7
                                                          I may need some time to rest before moving on
                                                               Eb
                                                                      G
                                                          And if it?s not tomorrow, then I?ll make it be
I'll try to explain it better
              D7
                                                          I?m closing this black hole
Do you know how it feels to meditate in the eye of hurricane?
                                                          For the sake of me
Acordes
```

Or maybe when you're searching for silence but you're in a

