

Gene Clark - American Dreamer

Intro: B Abm E B

Tom:

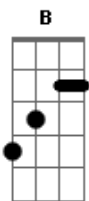

Think of all the things that money can buy
 A ranch in the mountains and a pleasure for your eye
 Then maybe think of things that a dollar bill won't bring Like someone to hold you close and a song for you to sing

And then think of all the years that it takes to be a fool

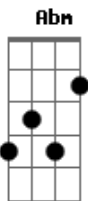

Like the lessons you learn in a lifetime, like your lifetime was a school
 And then think of things that don't turn out what they seem Like the love you thought you owned in the American dream

The American dreamer, sometimes a thinker, sometimes a schemer
 Sometimes a child, sometimes a wise man
 A lonely sole, a great extremer
 But, none the less, the American Dreamer
