

George Harrison - A Hard Rains Gonna Fall

Tom: E Heard the sound of a clown who cried in the alley And it's a hard, and it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard Oh, where have you been, my blue eyed son? Oh, where have you been, my darling young one? And it's a hard rain's a gonna fall I've stumbled on the side of twelve misty mountains Oh, who did you meet, my blue eyed son? I've walked and I've crawled on six crooked highways Who did you meet, my darling young one? I've stepped in the middle of seven sad forests I met a young child beside a dead pony I've been out in front of a dozen dead oceans I met a white man who walked a black dog I've been ten thousand miles in the mouth of a graveyard I met a young woman whose body was burning And it's a hard, and it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard I met a young girl, she gave me a rainbow And it's a hard rain's a gonna fall I met one man who was wounded in love Oh, what did you see, my blue eyed son? I met another man who was wounded with hatred Oh, what did you see, my darling young one? And it's a hard, and it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard And it's a hard rain's a gonna fall I saw a newborn baby with wild wolves all around it I saw a highway of diamonds with nobody on it Oh, what'll you do now, my blue eyed son? I saw a black branch with blood that kept drippin' Oh, what'll you do now, my darling young one? I saw a room full of men with their hammers a bleedin' I'm a goin' back out 'fore the rain starts a fallin' I saw a white ladder all covered with water I'll walk to the depths of the deepest black forest I saw ten thousand talkers whose tongues were all broken Where the people are many and their hands are all empty I saw guns and sharp swords in the hands of young children Where the pellets of poison are flooding their waters And it's a hard, and it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard Where the home in the valley meets the damp dirty prison And it's a hard rain's a gonna fall Where the executioner's face is always well hidden And what did you hear, my blue eyed son? Where hunger is ugly, where souls are forgotten And what did you hear, my darling young one? Where black is the color, where none is the number I heard the sound of a thunder, it roared out a warnin' And I'll tell it and think it and speak it and breathe it Heard the roar of a wave that could drown the whole world And reflect it from the mountain so all souls can see it Heard one hundred drummers whose hands were a blazin' Then I'll stand on the ocean until I start sinkin' Heard ten thousand whisperin' and nobody listenin' But I'll know my song well before I start singin' And it's a hard, and it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard Heard one person starve, I heard many people laughin' Heard the song of a poet who died in the gutter And it's a hard rain's a gonna fall Acordes
