

God Help The Girl - If You Could Speak

Tom: B

Intro: B Gb E Gb

I got out of bed and came here for adventure.

I stepped on a stone on the way.

I took off my shoe and a dog came towards me wagging his tail happily.

Dog, if you could speak, you'd know what to do.

Simply turn around and run.

Dog, if you could speak, you bury your bone and you show me the way back home.

Got out of bed, and I put on my sun suit.

Blue checky shirt and a dress.

Nothing was left for a girl in pajamas.

No breakfast, no kindness, no cake.

Girl, if you could speak, you'd know what to do

Ages left a gift with you
Rent a cheap second-hand crystal ball
I will trust my future to you

(Dbm Ebm E B Dbm Ebm E B)

I got out of bed when the springs wouldn't have me

They fired me up like a gun

Fell into my suit and I walked to breakfast

Green leaves and blue sky and sun

Boy, if you could speak, you'd know what to do

You'd sit and let the world go round

Remember all you saw and tell it back

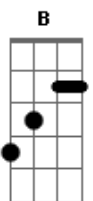

In the stories when the day is done

Remember all you saw and tell it back

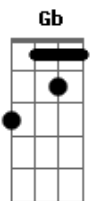

In the stories when the day is done
