

Gogol Bordello - Immigrant Punk

Tom: G

Tabbed by: Ben Wright

Standard tuning EADGBE

Any feedback appreciated, either leave a comment or email

Am

That's the basic riff for most of the song. When I went to see them live though the played it like this:

Am

Obviously it can be played either way, it's down to you as to what you think sounds easier to play.

In the verse after a while it then goes like this:

"There is a little punk rock mafia
Everywhere you go" (00:56)

Dm

Am

Dm

Am

Dm

The open strings played here basically imitate the bass. The whole song is pretty much two riffs just alternating between each other, but for the bridge at 02:48

"Of course we immigrants wanna sing all night long"

Am

"So I'm relaxed, I'm just larking around" 02:59 (bass adapted to guitar)

(all palm muted)

OR

(all palm muted)

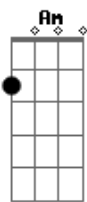

Again it can be played either way, down to personal preference.

That's it pretty much, any comments or ratings very much appreciated :o)
