

Grace VanderWaal - Ur So Beautiful

```
Intro: Db Abm Ebm Gb
                                                               Ooh oooh-ooh ooh-ooh-ooh
                                                               ( Gbm )
Lower East Side and it's pouring out
Don't you look right at me now
                                                               And who do you think you are, who do you think you are?
Is it you or are the lights
                                                               Messin' with my eyes, you make me overthink my lines
Getting brighter in the night?
                                                               I think I'm falling blind
Let's get coffee at our favorite spot
                                                              Who do you think you are, and who do you think you are
We can sit around, I talk a lot
                                                               Not lookin' back to say goodbye, is it all in my mind
   Ebm
But you're so chill, you keep it cool
                                                               I think it's all in my
I am not, I'm such a fool
                                                               And who do you think you are, who do you think you are?
                                                                              Ebm
Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
                                                               Messin' with my eyes, you make me overthink my lines
                      Gb
                                                               I think I'm falling blind
Don't you, don't you, don't you, don't you?
                            Ahm
Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
                                                               Who do you think you are, and who do you think you are
                                                                                          Fbm
Don't you, don't you, I think you do
                                                               Not lookin' back to say goodbye, is it all in my mind
                                                               I think it's all in my mind
Walk and laugh but not say anything
                                                               Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
Let's sit down and think of what we could be
                                                               Don't you, don't you, don't you, don't you?
If you wanted to say something
                                                               Oh damn, you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
You would say you promised me
                                                               Don't you, don't you, I think you, I think you
Walking like it's my surprise
                                                               Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
       Ahm
Falling over the fear of looking in your eyes
                                                               I said, don't you, don't you, don't you?
But now I am questioning
                                                                                            Abm
                                                               Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
Gb
I caught you looking at me
                                                               Don't you, don't you, 'cause I think you do
Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
                                                               Ooh oooh-ooh ooh-ooh-ooh
Don't you, don't you, don't you?
                                                                   Gb
                                                               Yeah I think you, I think you
Damn you're so beautiful and don't you know it?
                                                                           Abm
                                                               Do, oh-oh-oh, ohhh oh oh
Don't you, don't you, I think you do
                                                                   Gb
