

Gracie Abrams - And She Will Miss You

Tom: C

I saw your shoes behind the line
 I've seen your face a hundred times
 But now only in my mind
 The rest of you is left behind
 You lay there passed out on the couch
 Words falling from your mouth
 Maybe you like to drink too much
 I could see you losing touch
 Please don't float too high
 The sun will burn your wings
 You are everything
 Please just run away
 The headlights they will catch you

Your mother she will miss you
 So we all waited in a room
 Flipped a switch and watched the news
 Waiting for a sign of you
 Breathing was impossible to do
 So we all waited for the call
 And wondered if you're there at all
 But no one's lips knew what to say
 Hoping that you won't fly away
 Please don't float too high
 The sun will burn your wings
 You are everything
 Please just run away
 The headlights they will catch you
 Your mother she will miss you
